TUTORING APPLICATION

This is a pre-interview application and must be completed in its entirety in order to be considered. Learning Leaf will review submitted applications and schedule interviews with applicants who satisfy the minimum requirements and who appear to meet the demands of the position. Due to our large volume of applications, we will contact you for further consideration only if we think you could be a match for us.

QUALIFICATIONS:

In order to apply to be a tutor, you must have an education background or specific content knowledge. Applicants must have a Bachelor's degree or in final year of study. Personal qualities are as important as academic ones. Patience, ingenuity, and the ability to engage meaningfully with people from diverse backgrounds are qualities that we seek in prospective tutors. Previous experience in educational settings is valued, but not required.

As an independent contractor you will be required to provide your own materials, however you will have access to a library of materials that you may borrow and use at your discretion.

REQUIREMENTS FOR NEW TUTORS:

- Tutor must complete and pass a background check.
- Meet with supervisor once a month either in person or over the phone to review progress with student and address any concerns the tutor may have.
- Attend occasional workshops and professional development.
- Keep accurate time tutoring and submit the times electronically.
- Tutor must have experience reflective of the subjects they are wishing to tutor.
- Tutors agree to abide by Learning Leaf Policies.

TUTORING WAGES:

Tutors are paid monthly. Earning rates and employment are assessed on a yearly basis. You will be paid for hours tutored. This is not a salary position. There may be periods of time when you will have no students and you will not be paid during this time. We typically provide our tutors with a starting rate of $15.00 – $25.00 per hour. The rate is based upon degrees and level of experience.

FAQ's:

Q: What will be the format for my tutoring?

A: As an individual tutor you work one-on-one with students, typically in one-hour meetings either in person or via Skype. You will be in close contact with parents and teachers. You will work on setting goals with the student, both academic and social. You will incorporate these goals in developing effective learning strategies with the student.

Q: Who will my students be and what will I be helping with?

A: Our students come from a variety of ethnic, linguistic, and socio-economic backgrounds. Most students live in the Dublin or Hilliard area. They will range from Kindergarten to high school. You will be helping them with homework, basic academic skills, social, organizational, and time management skills, as well as motivation. You will help students set goals and teach them how to monitor and adjust these goals.

Q: What kind of training will I receive and what other resources are available to me?

A: As an independent contractor you will bring your previous knowledge and experiences to the tutoring experience. Assistance is always available, but no formal training will occur.

Q: How will I be assigned students?

A: Tutors submit a schedule of their available hours, and students are assigned based on tutors' availability and expertise required to be able to help the student. There may be periods of time when you will have a full schedule, and there may be periods when there will be no hours available.

Q: Where will I tutor, what are my hours and how long will the sessions be?

A: Tutoring occurs in a variety of places and will be determined by the client and tutor. Acceptable tutoring locations are the student's home or a public library. Any other locations must be approved. The hours you tutor are determined between you and the client, as well as how long the sessions will be. Keep in mind student's attention span, age, and other activities in which the student is involved in when determining length and frequency of sessions.

Q: Besides tutoring, what other responsibilities might I have?

A: We require all our tutors to establish contact with their students' parents and teachers and to keep them informed of their students' progress. Although tutors are not required to participate in recruitment activities, many tutors enthusiastically assist in recruiting both tutors and students, and this activity is reflected in tutor bonuses

Q: How will my work be assessed?

A: On-going assessment is essential to client satisfaction. You will evaluate your own progress, and your supervisor will provide you with regular feedback and assessment. Your supervisor will consider what you have contributed to and gained, evaluate your tutoring sessions, and examine how well you utilize the support and resources made available to you. Your students and their parents will complete evaluations of you, and you will be asked to evaluate the tutoring experience. Bi-annually, you will meet with your supervisor, and she will complete an evaluation that will determine your bonus pay for that session. Please feel free to contact Kristy DiGiacomo with questions.
